Editorial Review

Review

"I've always taught about aging from a positive perspective and it was so nice to read a text that did the same. I thought that the inclusion of the more concise information in the boxes, the assessment tools, and the links to resources were excellent. The resources identified were ones I have used myself with students, so it was nice to have the affirmation that the authors and myself have located and use these great websites."

Dianne McDermid, Nursing Instructor, Mount Royal University, Calgary
